

It's Your Heart That I Desire

I see the moonlight in your eyes,
And a love strong enough,
To change the tides,
Baby it's no surprise,
I'll be with you 'til the end of time,
It's your heart that I desire.

And to see you in this light,
A beautiful girl, such a sight,
And baby you got it right,
Dance with me throughout the night,
It's your heart that I desire.

I am a sincere man,
And I'll tell you no lies,
I come from across the land,
with no baggage at my side.

I come from the land of love, with the swaying palm trees,
where women share an abundance,
Of fruits that please,
The hearts of all men,
who(m) see the vastness,
In eyes that transcend,
The time that has past us.

To see the moonlight in your eyes,
A beautiful girl filled with life,
Baby it's no surprise,
A perfect love by my side,
A love that's lifted higher,
Its' your heart that I desire.
